About WOW Skin Science

WOW Skin Science is a popular Indian skincare and haircare brand that offers a wide range of natural and holistic products.

Our previous platform was not attuned to the scale at which we wanted to operate at. With MoEngage, we have a partner that is extremely rich in features and comes with great customer support. So instead of dealing with multiple vendors, we get a one-stop solution for everything under the sun!

Business Challenge

WOW Skin Science was on the lookout for a platform that could help the brand seamlessly segment customers, understand their behavior and personalize communications at scale.

The brand's short-term goal was to garner maximum amount of conversions by targeting customers with the right messaging. One the other hand, the long-term goal was to disseminate automated customer journeys to help with customer retention.

MoEngage Solution

The WOW team used MoEngage to send out hyper-personalized communications across channels like InApp, SMS, Push, and WhatsApp. This resulted in the brand clocking record-breaking user sessions and order purchases during its birthday sale!

Driving increase in operational efficiency

The team felt that with MoEngage, the integration was incredibly easy and seamless. It also helped increase the operational efficiency from 7-8 days (without MoEngage) to just 20-30 minutes (with MoEngage). This dip in lead time for campaign set up combined with the support that MoEngage provided was a game changer for WOW Skin Science team.
